PRINCE ALBERT, AUG. 7, 1894.

DAIRYING SERVICE.

We have much pleasure in announcing that one of the Manitoba and Northwest Traveling Parties will visit Prince Albert on the 21st and 22nd of this month. We hope that the farmers in this part of the country will be able to avail themselves of the opportunity presented to them by the presence of the most approved principles. As the notice issued suggests it would be well to appoint beforehand a local committee or one individual to arrange to have the necessary preparation made for the carrying out of the requirements which are simple enough, viz., (1) a convenient place of meeting; (2) For a supply of about ten gallons of sweet whole milk, to be furnished on the morning of the first day. (3) For a supply of about two gallons of cream (ripened if practicable), also to be furnished on the morning of the first day. This section of Saskatchewan is so well adapted for dairying purposes, that we hope every farmer within reach of Prince Albert will endeavor to be present and learn what they can upon this interesting subject. We have no doubt but that it will be well worth attending and carefully noting everything connected with a matter affecting the welfare of the community at large, whether agriculturists or merchants. In addition to the programme of instruction and illustration an address will be given on the afternoon of the first day, on butter making, with a discussion on dairying on the second day.

So far the weather has been all that could be wished for from an agricultural point of view, and in consequence the crops are so far advanced that harvest has become general during this week. We are thankful to say that it is believed that never in the history of this district of Prince Albert has there been such a goodly prospect of an abundant harvest, which should inspire us with gratitude to the Giver of all goodness. Notwithstanding the stringency of the money market and the dulness of trade all over the continent we think we can congratulate ourselves on the fact that there are few places in North America so free from destitution and want as in our own Saskatchewan district. In this section of the country we very rarely have a failure of crops, and, in consequence, we have no hesitation in recommending it as an excellent locality for the intending settler. We firmly believe that wheat farming is the most profitable in the present day, and we do not know of any locality so well adapted for that purpose as the country surrounding Prince Albert.

In these days of steamboats, railroads, electricity and all other appliances for the rapid transit of commercial necessities and the comfort of people in general, we think that it is about time that an earnest move should be made towards getting a bridge across the Saskatchewan river at this point. The amount of travel over the river at this place is becoming too much for the slow process now in use. And as this travel will naturally increase it behooves every well wisher of Prince Albert to be on the alert to further its interests. We need better railway facilities no doubt, but we also need a bridge, and that in the near future. Our growing trade and increase of population demand it, and we trust this fact will stimulate us to use every effort to have the thing accomplished.

We are in receipt of the speech of His Honor Lieutenant Governor Mackintosh on the occasion of his opening the fifth session of the second Legislative Assembly of the North West Territories on the 2nd inst. It being his first official delivery on such an occasion, it will be interesting to the public in general. We notice that His Honor has departed from the usual rule in speeches from the Throne but is none the less interesting on that account. His Honor, instead of fore shadowing the legislation for the session, gave some interesting information regarding the progress of the country. From this we learn that the educational affairs of the North West are in a satisfactory condition, and his reference to the "Territorial Exhibition to be held at Regina" will give general satisfaction. Other matters of interest to the public are also referred to in the Speech; such as prairie fires, noxious weeds, irrigation, well and oil boring, the intercolonial conference, the care of the insane &c. are all subjects of interest. The Speech embraces a wide scope, and it is to be hoped that the members of the Assembly will profit by it.

For the present the great strike in the United States has ended, and matters have for the meantime been smoothed over as it were; but we fear this forced calm is only the prelude to a more disastrous storm. The outlook is not at all reassuring. To an observant mind everything goes to show that society is in a very unsettled state, and that we are literally standing on the edge of a volcano which is liable to burst forth at any moment and totally obliterate the present order of things. There is a coming war between Capital and Labor, of which these strikes and social discontent are the precursors, and which in our belief will grow more intense as they go on until the final catastrophe comes to pass which will overturn the present order of things. This is a calamity which our humanity is unable to prevent; we can only trust that the whole of our civilization is in the hands of an all wise Providence and in this trust we may rest assured that though the draught which poor humanity will be called upon to drink will be a bitter one, yet it will be the means of inaugurating a better and a purer state of things.

Two yacht races on the other side of the water has caused no small commotion among our coasters to the south of us, and has had the effect of causing them to exercise considerable ingenuity in manufacturing excuses to account for the defeat of the Vigilant. But "Britannia rules the waves," and it is useless to be so thin skinned about so trivial a matter. The flag that for upwards of a thousand years has braved the lattle and the breeze is still triumphant, not only on the sea, but also on the land. We remember that when the government of the Sandwich Islands was upset through the intrigues of Yankee adventurers, how the United States papers wrought themselves up in a frenzy on the supposition that England was to interfere in the matter, and dire were the threats indulged in should such a thing take place. But, alas, England went on in the career of her way and let things take their course. Eventually the Yankees began to feel that they had put their foot in it, which they had finally to withdraw with as few grimaces as possible. But misfortunes do not come single, as a rule, and now our neighbors are beginning to find out that English influence is paramount in the Islands, and that a very advantageous commercial treaty is about to be consummated between England and Hawaii, which the Americans have failed to obtain. We infer from this that a considerable amount of bluster will be indulged in, but the Americans will have to chew the rag after all.

California fruit farmers seem to have suffered quite as much from the railroad strike as any section of the country. The usual shipment of fruit this season from the San Jose district is something like two hundred and fifty carloads a day. The main market for this is in the East, and the strike cut it off. The fruit was left on the trees, and it is said that thousands of tons of grapes, peaches, apricots, pears have rotted on the ground, not only in San Jose, but in every fruit growing district of the State. The result is equivalent to the best harvest.

The suggestion that Canada should purchase General Wolfe's sword is one that most Canadians will say amen to. It was in Canada that Wolfe won his greatest fame and met his death. His sword, figuratively speaking, of course, settled the political fate of and may be said to have made Canada. It is the relic of a brave soldier, honored by all in Canada, and would be rightly placed where Canadians could point to it as a memento of their past.

Reports from the West dwell on the probability of a good apple crop. The influx of foreign fruit of late has tended to drive the apple into the shade somewhat, which is not a good thing either for the market or for the people who eat fruit. The orange has its day, the banana its friends and the grape its votaries, but a good apple is a good commodity in any form of it, and is a lucky country which produces such in abundance.

Dr. Andrews, of Toronto, after interviewing the Board of Agriculture and charities, came to the conclusion that the scheduling order against Canadian cattle will not be removed for the rest of this year at least. Dr. Andrews' views are confirmed by other reliable sources. The more the matter is considered the more they are convinced that the scheduling order is to be regarded as a permanent fixture.

If, as seems probable, the trouble between China and Japan ends in war, most people will look for China's defeat. Japan is the smallest nation, but it has developed a capacity for using its strength in modern ways that China knows nothing of. Japan has railroads and steamships and telegraphs. A considerable war might be half over before the Chinese empire was, in all parts, aware that a war had begun.

A certain young man has complained to us of a letter of the actions of a woman to whom in an unguarded moment he lent a quantity of clothing, and received back not a word and not a cent.

He thinks that as long as he is at 25 cents a glass, and expects 10 cents each, he should not be called upon to pay this debt.

He thinks that the duty of Providence to us as men is such that, and that he should be left alone in peace.

Thursday last R. S. and his town attached to a load of hay had an exciting run away. They did not get out of the yard in time, and the hay cart, which was carrying a load of hay, ran over the front of the town, as far west as Brooks' laundry, where they were stopped, luckily without much damage to themselves or the wagon.

The approaches at the ferry crossing particularly the one on the south side, are in a horrible condition. There seems to be little effort made towards arranging for high or low water. Last week one party with a load of hay in trying to make the descent, capsized, and had the trounce of the horse, and the hay was scattered in all directions. The horse was killed, and the hay was scattered in all directions.

Although he seemed to take it for granted that they would be, and hoped that such tests were likely to become more frequent and more useful as the country developed.

The fourth element of success is confidence. For this character the lecturer recommended his audience to study Socrates. He said it is possessed by them in an eminent degree.

The fifth element of success is honesty. The lecturer warned his audience that when work becomes more difficult to procure than it now is, and that is one of the greatest things which he had a book forward to with certainty—that a very high reputation for honesty will be entitled to any one taking his labor to market if he wishes to sell for any sort of a half decent price.

The sixth element is self-control—no practice—can here the new doctor was truly eloquent and pathetic. The pictures he drew and the anecdotes he told of victims of intemperance did not, we believe, leave a heart in the audience untouched.

When the lecturer resumed his seat, Rev. Mr. Rochester pronounced the benediction, after which the meeting dispersed, everyone expressing themselves well satisfied with the evening's entertainment.

J. E. Sinclair returned from Winnipeg Saturday evening.

DAIRYING SERVICE.

The Dominion government has made provision for the maintenance of two travelling dairies in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories. They will be under the direction of the Dairy Commissioner for the Dominion. The object of the travelling dairies is to afford those who are engaged in butter-making an opportunity to gain further, exact, practical and helpful information on all parts of the process, from the separating of the cream to the printing and packing of the butter.

One expert butter maker and assistant, with an outfit of dairy utensils, including a centrifugal cream separator, a churn, a butter-worker, a Babcock milk tester, etc., etc., will compose each travelling dairy. Two days will be spent at every place which is visited, if the local committee make the necessary preparations of a place for meetings, and a supply of milk and cream. The programme of instruction and illustration will be arranged, as far as practicable, with the following time card:

FIRST DAY.

10 to 12 a.m.—1. Running of centrifugal cream separator, and separating cream from about 10 gallons of milk to be supplied by local committee. 2. Testing samples of milk. 3. Preparing about 2 gallons of cream, to be supplied by the local committee.

2 to 5 p.m.—4. Churning of cream supplied by local committee. 5. Making butter, etc. 6. Ripening of cream from centrifugal separator. 7. Address on butter making.

SECOND DAY.

9 to 10 a.m.—1. Testing samples of milk. 10 to 12 a.m.—2. Churning cream from centrifugal separator, and making butter. 2 to 4 p.m.—3. Running of the centrifugal cream separator. 4. Discussion on dairying.

REQUIREMENTS.

To enable the farmers, their wives and families to get as much benefit as possible from the practical teachings of these travelling dairies, it is necessary that a local committee or individual, in every place to be visited, should arrange beforehand:

1. For a convenient place of meeting. 2. For a supply of about ten gallons of sweet whole milk, to be furnished on the morning of the first day. 3. For a supply of about two gallons of cream (ripened if practicable), also to be furnished on the morning of the first day. 4. For the distribution of butter (similar to this which will be furnished free) surrounding the dates and places of meetings, widely and thoroughly through the surrounding country.

Farmers are invited to bring samples of whole milk, of skimmed milk, and of butter made, to be tested, about half a tonful in plenty for each sample.

IMPORTANT.

In many districts in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, dairying can be followed with profit and success. The soil, the pastures, the fodder crops, and the climatic conditions, as well as the demands and opportunities of the market, are all suitable for the production of the highest quality of milk, butter, cheese and bacon. By a system of mixed farming, the growing of wheat at a profit may be helped and not hindered; and thereby the farmers may protect themselves from the very serious risk of loss and failure which is incurred by any individual or community of the western provinces that depends wholly or mainly on a crop or on the selling of grain.

Large farmers and business men generally to avail themselves of the benefits which these travelling dairies are intended to give. The women from the farms are specially invited to be present at the meetings.

If you are interested in the progress and welfare of the district where you live, or are invited to see that a local committee is formed, and that it makes the necessary preparations for your locality in good time.

I am your obedient servant,

JAN. W. ROBERTSON,

Dairy Commissioner.

Prince Albert will be visited by one of the travelling dairies on Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 21-22 and 23rd, Saskatoon, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 24th and 25th.

A CURIOUS CALCULATION.

To the Editor of the Times.

Sir—I see in a late issue of your paper a calculation claiming to fix the date of the end of the world. Any person who will take the trouble to investigate this array of figures will plainly see that the whole affair is based on false assumptions. In order to make up the required number it will be seen that the same periods are reckoned twice and three times over.

But apart from all this, it is expressly stated in the scriptures that "at that day and of that hour knoweth no man," consequently it is idle to speculate upon a subject which is expressly hidden from mortal eyes. Again, it is nowhere said in scripture that the world is to reign 6,000 years. The passage in Rev. xix, 11, declares the number to be that of his name, the number of a man and it is to be regarded as an enigma. It would be scarcely worth while to take notice of this silly calculation if it did not show that no theory, however foolish and extravagant it may be, can be put forward without finding some adherents. The Anglo-Israelist has quite a run for some years and started many, and the measurements of the Great Pyramid of Egypt were supposed to predict the end of all things in 1880 or 1881, but time has shown that these calculations were the fanciful fabrications of a man. The same will be the case with the present prediction, yet many unthinking and illiterate people will perhaps have their minds unsettled by what they see, and to be a true philosophy.

Yours truly,

CHIEF.

"Any post in a storm" is an adage which may be, we suppose, applied to knowing as well as to anything else. The thought arose in our mind the other day while passing down one of the streets of our worthy town. We were ambulating along in a demure fashion, not thinking of anything in particular, when our attention was suddenly attracted by seeing a young gentleman with his life seemingly firmly attached to a window pane. We were curious to know what could he could suck from such an unlikely looking substance, but on advancing further we could see by the light within a pair of eyes exactly opposite the pane from outside. "Any post in a storm" thought we, but we should think it was kind of tasteless at the best. Upon second thought, however, we thought that as the rays of the sun pass through this transparent substance dispersing light and heat, it is no wonder that the rays of love may be a valuable to pass through, affording comfort and joy to the recipient. Again doctors tell us that many diseases are propagated by the habit of kissing and that this might be employed to diminish the prevalence of such a communication.

No other medicine has equalled Hood's Sassaaparilla in the relief it gives in several cases of dyspepsia, such as indigestion, etc.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Sassaaparilla has been used by millions of mothers for their child's health. It is a safe and reliable remedy for all ailments of children. It will relieve the most stubborn colic, indigestion, and all other ailments of the young. It will also relieve the most stubborn colic, indigestion, and all other ailments of the young. It will also relieve the most stubborn colic, indigestion, and all other ailments of the young.

A boon to housewives.—One bottle of English Sassaaparilla completely removed a carbuncle from my nose. I take pleasure in recommending the remedy, as it acts with mysterious promptness in the removal from noses of carbuncles, pimples, eruptions, spots, and all other ailments of the face.

The Manitoba Free Press in speaking of the Uxbridge Piano says: They are genuine works of art, and reflect the highest credit upon the firm which has produced them. The old style of upright pianos is thrown into the shade. The Uxbridge Piano has a continuous back rack which will be appreciated in the playing of duets; sitting down to the piano the performer touches a lever and the keyboard is lowered, and the hinges of the lid turn out of sight, and the instrument presents the same artistic appearance when open as when shut. The Organs manufactured by the Uxbridge company have been in use for over twenty years, and require no special description as they are so well-known and liked in the homes of the thousands over the whole world. However, the company is manufacturing a six Oct. Organ in Piano case which is having a wonderful sale. The Piano made by the Uxbridge Piano Co. are a credit to Canadian enterprise, being superior in tone, durability and finish to the best American.
